About Us

Geometria, headquartered in downtown Manhattan, is a start-up, digital-first media company with full-service capabilities, including creative and production. The company fully owns and operates all of its premium LED digital networks located in high traffic and strategic areas within supermarkets, grocery stores, elevators, fitness centers, car services and LED truck fleet. These digital networks target sought-after consumers while they are making important purchasing decisions. Geometria also operates an LED truck fleet.

Geometria has expanded its capabilities and has joined the programmatic ecosystem. Every digital network is now integrated with industry-recognized SSPs, generating significant demand from big brands across a library of categories. Serving over 144M monthly impressions across Geometria's digital networks.
